Alexandria Gazette

THURSDAY EVENING, SEPT'R. 13.

A LESSER BRIGHAM Young has just been stopped at the beginning of his magnetic career. Brother Howe, who has been corrupting the Adonai Shomo, a small Socialistic community dwelling at Petersham, Mass., is under arrest, Charlottesville... Charlottesville... 725 " 150 " Conn't to and, though stone walls do not a prison make, they interfere considerably with the "magnetic · influence," by means of which Brother Howes and Brother Brighams are enalled to control the simple minds that are so unfortunate as to come within the mysterious aura exhalad by such rascels. According to all accounts, Brother Howe is a very remarkable man. By means of his power of drawing others to him, rarticularly the "sisters," he carried every thing before him in the Adenai Shome. He not only made the community give up its abstention from the use of meat, and of vegetables growing under ground, and its observance of the reventh day for Sab-bath, but he made the sisters cut their hair off close to their heads, refused to admit company, and abelished prayers. None of these simple-minded persons can tell how it was that Brother Howe so completely controlled their actions. Sister Hawke appears to have been especially uppermost in his wicked thoughts. Such was his influence over Sister Hawkenthat at his command she cheerfully put on pentaloons and wore them in the yard, and when the trial of Brother Howe came on she arcse and talked for over an hour in his behalf. Strange to say, now that the community is rid of Howe, and has elected a new President, the affection of Sister Hawkes has turned to the bitterest hatred, and the is ready to talk a good deal longer than an hour against her late enchanter. The members of the Adon's Shome are equally earaged, and now only speak of their recent leader as "a rersona-tion of the devil." A queer climate is that of New England. Brigham Young entered this life from Vermont, as did also Joseph SMITH. They got their magnetism in New England, and carried it with them to the West. If Brother Howe shall get out of prison, he may do even greater things than BRIGHAM or JOSEPH ever accomplished. It would be well, perhaps, if the Massachusetts Legislature could be brought to bear upon Brother Howe to the end that he may he kept within proper limits for the rest of his life. He is altogether too magnetic.-Louisville Courier Journal.
